SILVER SPRING, Apr 7, 2016 - Valley High Mining Company (OTC PINK: VHMC) today announces its acquisition target company GEAR SPORTS NUTRITION has signed an agreement with original SHARK TANK member Kevin Harrington through his company called SHARK FINDS for a series of direct response TV commercials to be aired both regionally and nationally featuring GEAR SPORTS NUTRITION products.

Kevin Harrington is widely considered the person who invented the now-universal infomercial. He also founded the As Seen on TV empire, with over $4 billion in product sales, and was one of the first people ABC approached to perform as one of their judges on the wildly successful and Emmy Award winning, Shark Tank. Kevin has proven his place as one of the most successful entrepreneurs who ever lived and worked in the industry. His colleagues have included names from the list of the most acclaimed celebrities in the world. He has been responsible for launching some of the most successful DRTV campaigns in the business.

SHARK FINDS will be scripting and filming a series of 30 and 60 second commercial spots featuring GEAR products. These commercials will be aired to a national TV audience as well as hundreds of regional ad spots. GEAR products will also be featured on SHARK FINDS website.

"We were overjoyed when we were contacted by SHARK FINDS about featuring our products in one of their next ad campaigns," stated GEAR President Peter Scalise. "Kevin Harrington is well known as the king of infomercials and this will bring GEAR and its products out of the tiny little circle of the fitness crowd and into the mainstream, exposing us to people all over the country. This will not only bring a massive boost to our brand recognition but will undoubtedly bring a major revenue boost as well."

The development process is expected to take about 90 days. VHMC will provide further updates on the process as it develops and launch dates draw closer.
