

Marlin Gold Mining Limited: Provides Corporate Update

20.11.2017 | CNW

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20, 2017 - Marlin Gold Mining Ltd. (TSX-V: MLN) ("Marlin" or the "Company") is pleased to provide a corporate update on its wholly owned La Trinidad gold mine in Sinaloa, Mexico (the "La Trinidad Mine"), its wholly owned Commonwealth silver and gold property in Cochise County, Arizona (the "Commonwealth Project"), and the proposed spin-out of Sailfish Royalty Corp. ("Sailfish").

La Trinidad Update

Most of the mining year-to-date has focused on expanding and deepening the north side of the Taunus pit at the La Trinidad Mine. As a result, over 35,500 ounces of gold have been shipped through October 31, 2017. Waste removal continues on the south side of the Taunus pit and access to the mineralized material there, including material surrounding hole 17TRD50, will begin in the next two months. As disclosed in Marlin's press release dated May 24, 2017, hole 17TRD50 intersected 7.57 g/t Au (5.12 g/t cut) over 63.35 meters (26.7 meters true width), including 29.34 g/t Au (13.80 g/t cut) over 10.00 meters (4.2 meters true width).

Month-to-date, gold ounces stacked on the leach pad have averaged approximately 350 ounces per day with daily gold recoveries now exceeding 105 ounces and expected to continue to rise.

Rainy season ended in early October. Approximately 1,100 millimetres of rain fell on the property from June through September. Although rains were lighter this year than the previous two years of historic rain, dealing with water at the bottom of a large pit (where the mineralized material is located) is always a challenge. Now that the pit is dry, mining is more productive and a stockpile of over 35,000 tonnes (containing approximately 2,200 ounces of gold) has been accumulated in front of the crusher.

Drilling at Colinas has commenced with four holes now complete and awaiting assays. Colinas is a satellite target approximately 1.2 kilometers southeast of the Taunus pit. Importantly, the Colinas satellite targets sits within the permitted mining boundary at the La Trinidad Mine. Assay results from the first two holes are expected back from the lab in the last week of November.

Commonwealth Update

A comprehensive ground magnetic and geochemistry (soil sampling and mobile metal ions) survey was completed at the Commonwealth Project. Anomalies have indicated drill targets along the general projection of the mineralized structures at Pearce Hill. Drilling has commenced in this area to see if the mineralized structures at Pearce Hill continue below roughly 30 meters of transported cover material (valley fill gravels, colluvium and alluvium).

Additionally, all permits are in place to begin drilling at the Six Mile Hill target area to follow up on hole 17SMRC03, which intersected 1.91 g/t Au over 30.48 meters (15.20 meters interpreted true width) (see press release dated July 17, 2017). Now that new drill pads and roads are in place, drilling will begin later this week once the priority holes at Pearce Hill have been completed.

Initial assay results from these holes are expected back from the lab in January 2018.

Sailfish Update

On June 27, 2017, Sailfish entered into a definitive agreement to acquire a 3.5% royalty (the "TZ Royalty") on the advanced stage Tocantinzinho gold project in Brazil owned by Eldorado Gold Corp. for US$6.5 million in cash and US$5.5 million in common shares of Sailfish (see press release dated June 28, 2017). The TZ Royalty, along with Sailfish's interest in the gold stream agreement with Golden Reign Resources Ltd. on its high grade San Albino gold deposit in Nicaragua (the "SA Gold Stream"), which is expected to begin production in late 2018, gives Sailfish enough scale to operate as a separate publicly traded royalty company.

Marlin received an interim order from the Supreme Court of British Columbia dated November 15, 2017, authorizing the Company to convene an annual and special meeting of its shareholders on December 14, 2017 for the purpose of, among other things, considering and approving an arrangement under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia). Marlin expects to complete a spin-out of Sailfish to shareholders shortly thereafter.

Akiba Leisman, Executive Chairman and Interim CEO states that, "now is a very exciting time for Marlin. We are continuously mining and processing high grade material at La Trinidad, drilling very prospective targets at both La Trinidad and Commonwealth, and in the process of spinning off Sailfish. We are excited to be ending 2017 on a strong note and look forward to executing on growth opportunities in 2018 and beyond."

Wexford Loan

Principal on a loan owed to affiliates of the Company's controlling shareholder, Wexford Capital, LP, stood at US$41.5 million as of the date of this press release, an increase of US$2.6 million (the "Increased Facility") to repay certain payables, continue funding exploration at all its properties, advance the Commonwealth Project and fund certain costs associated with the TZ Royalty acquisition and spin-out of Sailfish.

Wexford Capital LP is an "insider" (as defined in applicable securities laws) of the Company. Pursuant to Multilateral Instrument 61-101 – Protection of Minority Security Holders in Special Transactions ("MI 61-101"), the Increased Facility is considered a "related party transaction". The Increased Facility is exempt from the requirements to obtain a formal valuation or minority shareholder approval, as the Increased Facility does not fall within any of paragraphs (a) to (g) of the definition of "related party transaction" under MI 61-101 and has no equity or voting component. The Increased Facility was considered and approved by the board of directors of the Company, other than the directors of the Company who are also affiliated with Wexford Capital LP, who abstained from such approval. There was no materially contrary view or abstention by any independent director approving the Increased Facility.
