CEO Paul Gorman stated, "The United States represents the most important target market for our business as well as the most important financial market in the world. Our new OTCQB listing provides Great Lakes Graphite with improved exposure to U.S. investors and offers the potential for increased liquidity and broader exposure.

Vehicle electrification plans and forecasts show substantial growth for battery minerals like graphite. We already have a considerable shareholder base in the U.S. and are pleased to provide U.S. investors the ability to more easily participate in Great Lakes Graphite as we take our place in the battery minerals supply chains."
