

Neotech Metals Commences Drilling at Hecla-Kilmer, Appoints Jared Galenzoski as Director

03.09.2025 | Newsfile

Vancouver, September 3, 2025 - Neotech Metals Corp. (CSE: NTMC) (OTCQB: NTMFF) (FSE: V690) ("Neotech" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that crews have mobilized to the Company's 100%-owned Hecla-Kilmer rare earth project in Ontario, Canada to commence drilling and environmental studies.

The Company is also pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Jared Galenzoski, P.Geo., current VP Exploration of Neotech, to its Board of Directors, replacing Mr. Brian Thurston. The Company would like to thank Mr. Thurston for his dedicated efforts over the past two years and wishes him continued success in his future endeavors.

Hecla-Kilmer Drill Program

The drill program at Hecla-Kilmer is designed for up to 10,000 metres, with a focus on infill definition and proximal extensional targets within the Pike Zone. The objective of the program is to advance towards a maiden resource estimate in 2026. In parallel, the Company will be re-logging historic drill core completed by the previous operator, VR Resources, and conducting selective assaying of previously unsampled intervals.

Environmental & Community Engagement

Environmental baseline studies, including water sampling, will be undertaken as part of the Company's ongoing efforts to responsibly advance and de-risk the project. Neotech will also continue its commitment to proactive community and Indigenous engagement to further strengthen relationships with all stakeholders in the region.

TREO Project Update

Samples from the recently completed drill program at the TREO Project in British Columbia are now at the laboratory, with assay results pending. The Company expects to provide an update once results have been received and analyzed.
