About LKA's exploration program at its Golden Wonder Mine

The Company seeks to obtain financing to drill test multiple surface and subsurface targets identified by Kinross Gold USA during their 20015-2017 exploration program at the Company's Golden Wonder mine located near Lake City, CO. The objective of future drilling will be to determine if additional ore bodies of similar size and grade as the original bonanza-grade gold deposit exist on LKA claims. The original Golden Wonder deposit yielded more than 133,000 ounces of gold from a single ore shoot measuring less than 10,000 cubic feet. From 1998, through the second quarter of 2006, the average grade of Golden Wonder production was 16.01 ozs. (454 grams) gold per ton. Upon resuming exploratory operations in the first quarter of 2009, LKA extracted and/or shipped thirty-one bulk samples of crushed vein material containing over 4,200 ounces of gold with a net value, after processing, of over $5 million. These shipments offset the majority of LKA exploration costs to date.

Details of the LKA and Kinross exploration efforts can be found on the LKA website at: <https://lkagold.com>. Investors are cautioned that the Company continues to generate substantial losses and additional funding and exploration work is required. A commercially viable ore reserve has yet to be established and there can be no guarantee that the Company will be successful in achieving any of its objectives.
