Hastings is also pleased to welcome Wyloo Metals ("Wyloo") as a new strategic investor in the Company. Wyloo is a private equity firm with a focus on investing in the critical mineral supply chain. Wyloo has committed to subscribe for A$150 million of secured, redeemable, exchangeable "Notes") to be issued by Hastings, with the proceeds used to fund the proposed Acquisition (the "Wyloo Strategic Investment").

A summary of the key terms of the Acquisition and Wyloo Strategic Investment is contained in the Appendix of this announcement.

Transaction rationale

Globally, the challenge of supply chain resilience in the face of ongoing geo-political, COVID-19 and other pressures has been at the forefront of governments around the world. Western governments are increasingly focused on securing supply of NdPr and other critical minerals through sustainable and strategically aligned supply chains.

Neo is a market leading producer of NdFeB magnets and rare earth materials globally, uniquely positioned as the owner of the largest rare earth separation and rare metals facility in Europe. Neo is currently accelerating plans to expand its rare earths separation capacity with a new factory in Estonia to manufacture sintered NdFeB permanent magnets.

The proposed Acquisition will provide Hastings with a strategic stake in Neo and exposure to its magnetic materials business. Hastings is exploring potential partnership arrangements utilising Hastings' Yangibana feedstock in Neo's downstream rare earth operations. Oaktree's representatives on the Neo board have agreed to step down, and Hastings intends to seek representation with the Acquisition. Hastings confirms it has no current intention to make a takeover offer for Neo nor to acquire any more shares in Neo.

Hastings views the Acquisition as the first step in its Hastings 2.0 strategy, to create a fully-integrated mine-to-magnet enterprise. This is a key element of this vision and Hastings is pleased to have the support of Wyloo as a strategic partner. The Hastings Board and management view this as an important strategic initiative.

Commenting on the transaction, Hastings' Executive Chairman, Mr Charles Lew, said:

"The acquisition of the Neo stake represents an important strategic milestone for Hastings, providing the Company and its shareholders with a strategic partner to take further steps towards realising the Hastings 2.0 strategy.

We are also thrilled to welcome the support of and strategic investment by Wyloo Metals. We see Wyloo's commitment to the rare earths sector as a key driver of the industry's growth.

our strategy and objectives. Importantly for Hastings shareholders, in addition to these important strategic initiatives, we are committed to the development and funding of Yangibana, and the company continues to advance its plans in this regard."

Wyloo's CEO, Mr Luca Giacobazzi, said:

"Rare earths and the permanent magnets they produce are essential enablers of the energy transition. There is already a significant and upcoming increase in magnet demand will require continued investment. This transaction spans the value chain, from rare earths extraction to magnet production, well with our strategy of investing in the stable and secure supply of critical minerals."

Update on Yangibana

The development and financing of Yangibana remains the key priority for the Hastings Board and management team. This was disclosed in Hastings' June Quarterly Report released to the ASX on 28 July 2022.

Hastings continues to progress a range of funding options for Yangibana, including its ongoing discussions with the NTA and other select capital providers to secure the remaining funding for the project. The Company will update the market on the progress of these discussions.
