Tim Swendseid, Chief Executive Officer of Elevation Gold, stated "Fourth quarter production was impacted by challenges around the crushing plant, all of which were rectified by quarter end. On a positive note, thanks to the contract and permit team members at the Moss Mine, we completed the 3A-Ph2 Leach pad construction in early November, well under budget and is now in-use. Additionally, we completed 19 reverse circulation holes in the Reynolds Pit and Mordor areas and are looking forward to reporting those assay results when received during Q1 2024. As noted in the table above, we ended the year with strong gold grades, but we missed our guidance by approximately 3,000 oz, primarily because of the crusher-related operational issues. We look forward to a stronger 2024, particularly considering improving gold prices, during which we expect to make up some of the missed production."
